Time:	10:30 AM
Venue:	College Auditorium
Total Number of Participants:	78

Brief Report:	To create awareness of Intellectual Property Rights among staff and the student community, the IPR cell of the college organized a session on 25 March 2019 in the college auditorium. The IPR facilitator and trainer, Mr. Pankaj Kumar talked about property rights through patents, copyrights and trademarks. He explained how these property rights allow the holder to exercise a monopoly on the use of the term for a specified period. Eventually, Mehul Mittal, a student from the Department of Management filed PATENT for the novel food product V-IMPACT with the Patent Attorney of India. Mehul is also the founder and CEO of V-IMPACT FOODS PRIVATE LIMITED which is also recognized under the #StartupIndia campaign, an initiative by the Government of India.
Outcome:	Participants appreciated the comprehensive coverage of IPR concepts, highlighting its applicability to their fields of study and work. Mr. Kumar's engaging presentation style and interactive approach were commended for facilitating understanding and encouraging questions. Mehul Mittal's story resonated with many, providing a tangible example of how IPR awareness can lead to concrete achievements. Areas for Improvement: Some participants suggested offering follow-up workshops or consultations to delve deeper into specific aspects of IPR, like patent filing procedures. Providing resources like IPR guides or online platforms for further learning could be considered for continued engagement. Exploring collaborations with other departments or external organizations could attract a wider audience and further promote IPR awareness.
