FEEDBACK REPORT: BOOK REVIEW "THE SILENT PATIENT"

The Xavier's Intellectual Forum (XIF) held its first offline open-group book review of The Silent Patient by Alex Michaelides in the Girls Student Lounge. The book is a 2019 psychological thriller that not only featured as a bestseller in New York Times but was critically appreciated as well. The novel is narrated by an English psychotherapist, Theo Faber and revolves around a patient who turns mute after murdering her husband. The different aspects of the books from the thematic perspective and the techniques were discussed by the students. The portrayal of the characters, effectiveness of the writing style and the depiction of human nature was also deliberated by the members. The session was moderated by Vasudha Sharma. The session concluded with remarks from Dr Shruti Rawal who shared the nuances of reviewing a work with the students.

REPORT: BOOK REVIEW "THE SILENT PATIENT"

The Xavier's Intellectual Forum (XIF) recently convened its inaugural offline open-group book review session in the Girls Student Lounge, focusing on Alex Michaelides's acclaimed 2019 psychological thriller, The Silent Patient. This bestseller, which has received accolades including critical recognition from the New York Times, delves into the complex psyche of an English psychotherapist, Theo Faber. Theo attempts to unravel the mystery behind his patient, who chooses silence after the shocking act of murdering her husband.
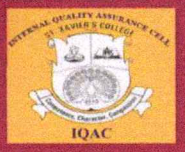

During the session, the students engaged in a thorough discussion of various thematic elements and narrative techniques employed in the novel. Key points of debate included the book's character portrayal, the effectiveness of Michaelides's writing style, and his insightful depiction of human nature. These discussions allowed participants to delve deeper into the psychological underpinnings of the characters and the story's gripping plot.

The event was adeptly moderated by Vasudha Sharma, who guided the conversation to ensure a comprehensive exploration of the topics. The session wrapped up with insightful closing remarks from Dr. Shruti Rawal, who highlighted important aspects of literary critique and book reviewing. Dr. Rawal's comments enriched the students' understanding of literary analysis, adding a scholarly layer to the engaging discussion. This successful gathering not only fostered a deeper appreciation of literature among the students but also honed their analytical skills in assessing complex narratives.

FEEDBACK REPORT: ENRICHMENT LECTURE ON DIGITAL HUMANITIES

The Department of English organized an enrichment lecture on 27 August 2021 at 10:00AM virtually through google meet. The guest speaker for the day was Dr Arjun Ghosh – Associate Professor, Department of Humanities and Social Science at IIT Delhi who introduced Digital Humanities to the students of our department. Dr Gosh shared various tools and techniques. Few of these essential and useful tools and techniques include: 19/47 Archive, Electronic Literature, Timeline and, Palladio. He opened a whole new world to the listeners, and researchers to explore futuristic digital pedagogies and learning coding that ensures a bright future for them. It was indeed a valuable talk, which culminated with a series of interactive questions and responses.

REPORT: ENRICHMENT LECTURE ON DIGITAL HUMANITIES

On August 27, 2021, the Department of English at our institution hosted a compelling virtual enrichment lecture via Google Meet. The esteemed guest speaker, Dr. Arjun Ghosh, Associate Professor from the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences at IIT Delhi, presented an insightful session on Digital Humanities. Dr. Ghosh introduced students and faculty members to this emerging field, highlighting its relevance and applicability in contemporary research and pedagogy.

During his presentation, Dr. Ghosh shared a variety of digital tools and techniques that are transforming the landscape of humanities studies. Among the notable tools discussed were 19/47 Archive, Electronic Literature, Timeline, and Palladio. These tools offer innovative ways to analyze and visualize data, allowing researchers and students to engage with digital content creatively and effectively.
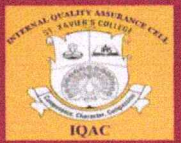

Dr. Ghosh's lecture served as a gateway to new possibilities, encouraging attendees to explore advanced digital methodologies and learn coding skills that are increasingly vital in academic and professional realms. The session was highly interactive, featuring a dynamic Q&A segment where participants eagerly discussed the potential applications of Digital Humanities in their own work.

The event was not only educational but also inspirational, opening up future avenues for attendees to integrate digital technologies into their scholarly activities. The Department of English anticipates organizing more such lectures to continue enriching the academic experiences of its students.

FEEDBACK REPORT: ENRICHMENT LECTURE ON POST-COLONIALISM

On 2 September 2021, the Department of English at St. Xavier's College - Jaipur organized a Guest Lecture on Postcolonialism – An Introduction through the virtual gateway. Postcolonialism is one of the most substantive and debated topics in the realm of English Literature. Nothing could have been more enriching than organizing a Guest Address on this theme by Prof Pramod K. Nayar. Prof Nayar is the Professor – Department of English at the University of Hyderabad with more than 103 publications and has countless feathers in his cap. His bailiwick is Colonial Writings in English, and he is one of those speakers who can combine the deftness of subject-knowledge with real-life examples. During his one-hour session, he mesmerized the participants with his prudent, convincing, well-presented know-how about the topic without any postmodernist jargon. He also dispelled certain preconceived myths regarding concepts such as the difference between the Study of Colonial Discourse v/s Post-Colonial Literature and Culture, who is the Colonizer, and who is colonized? By quoting examples of exemplary writers and figures like Edward Said, M.K. Gandhi and S. Nagarajan, he made the interaction upbeat and au fait. His astounding inputs to Postcolonialism and associative terms were very insightful and enlightening to all our participants. The session concluded with a series of highly interactive questions and answers with the speaker. It was indeed a great learning and growing session for all of us.

REPORT: ENRICHMENT LECTURE ON POST-COLONIALISM

On September 2, 2021, the Department of English at St. Xavier's College, Jaipur, hosted a virtual guest lecture titled "Postcolonialism – An Introduction," delivered by the distinguished Prof. Pramod K. Nayar from the University of Hyderabad. Prof. Nayar, who boasts over 103 publications and a profound expertise in Colonial Writings in English, provided an engaging and insightful discourse on this critical and debated area in English literature.

Throughout the hour-long session, Prof. Nayar eloquently demystified complex postcolonial concepts using relatable real-life examples, steering clear of dense postmodernist jargon. His discussion focused on clarifying common misconceptions, such as the distinctions between Colonial Discourse Studies and Post-Colonial Literature and Culture, and addressing fundamental questions about the identities of the colonizer versus the colonized. He enriched the lecture by referencing seminal figures and writers including Edward Said, M.K. Gandhi, and S. Nagarajan, which added depth and context to his explanations.

The lecture not only illuminated various aspects of postcolonial studies but also spurred an enthusiastic interaction during the Q&A session, reflecting the participants' engagement and newly sparked interests. Prof. Nayar's ability to connect theoretical insights with practical implications made the lecture exceptionally beneficial for students and faculty alike, marking it as a significant educational experience for all attendees.

FEEDBACK REPORT: STELLAR-TAPE A TALE

Literati Cell, Department of English, St Xavier's College - Jaipur, in collaboration with Tape a Tale organised Phase I of the National Level Story Telling Competition, Stellar 2022. It took place on 20 January 2022 in an online mode through the Google Meet video-conferencing application. Dr Ranjit Kaur was the teacher coordinator for the event. Vasudha Sharma was the student coordinator and campus ambassador for this event. Divisha, student of BA (Hons.) English II, was the master of ceremony.

The event began with the welcoming of Rev Fr Dr A Rex Angelo SJ, Principal, St Xavier's College-Jaipur, Mr Ali Husen and Ms Rachana Patil, judges of the event from Tape a Tale, faculty members, participants and students of the college. Rev Fr Dr A Rex Angelo SJ, Principal, enlightened the gathering with his words. The participants were then called upon to perform their stories. All the participants had submitted their stories earlier through a Google Form shared by the organizer, Tape a Tale.

A total of 10 selected students from different courses and years performed their stories. The stories ranged from narratives about memories with grandparents and parents, childhood stories and incidents, personal takes on one's identity, to fictional narratives. Following all the story performances, Rev Fr Dr A Rex Angelo SJ, Principal, motivated the gathering and congratulated the participants for their creative narration and story writing. The judges, then, spoke some words of encouragement and announced the result. Kanvika Sharma, student of BA Economics (Hons.) Third Year, was the winner of Phase I of Stellar 2022 and will proceed forward to Phase II of Stellar 2022, inter-collegiate level. The event concluded successfully with a group photograph and the gathering was thanked for their presence by the emcee.

FEEDBACK REPORT: VOCABULARY ENRICHMENT WORKSHOP-VOCAB CLUB

Xavier's ELT Centre (XERC), under the aegis of the Department of English organized a day's workshop on Vocabulary Enrichment titled, 'Vocab-Collab'. The program was conducted through the virtual gateway where students learnt to maneuver their preexisting vocabulary into meaningful conversation and as an information collecting tool. Nitika Singh from B.A. English (Hons) III introduced the eminent speaker for the workshop, Dr Annie Kuriachan – Associate Professor, Women's Christian College, Chennai. Her erudition coupled with experience made the workshop very interactive and gave students handy tools to use their existing vocabulary and at the same time expand it to express better. Through the activities she conducted the students got a hands-on experience to practice the tools taught by her. She engaged the students in a playful manner to teach them tricks to enhance their vocabulary and put it into everyday use. The workshop was well absorbed in terms of knowledge by the students and was successfully conducted. The workshop ended with the formal vote of thanks delivered by the head, Dr Atiqa Kelsy.
