KIBO XS DEVICE

The Kibo XS Device is a state-of-art assistive device specifically designed to meet the needs of visually impaired individuals. It utilizes advanced optical character recognition (OCR) technology, text-to-speech capabilities and tactile interfaces to enable users to access and comprehend printed materials, making learning and research more accessible and engaging.

Key features of Kibo XS Device:

Text-to-speech technology: The device can convert written text into audible speech, 1. allowing users to 'read' books, articles, handouts, and other printed materials independently.

2. Optical Character Recognition (OCR): By simply placing a document or book under the Kibo XS camera, the device quickly scans and recognizes the text, which can be read aloud or saved for future reference.

3. Tactile Controls: The device is equipped with tactile buttons and controls, ensuring easy navigation and operation for visually impaired users.

4. Integrated audio controls: With Convenient audio controls, users can adjust the speech speed and volume and even select preferred voices to personalize their reading experiences.
