7.3 Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 1000 words

Response:

Sensitize, Educate, Empower and Develop (SEED) the Rural Community

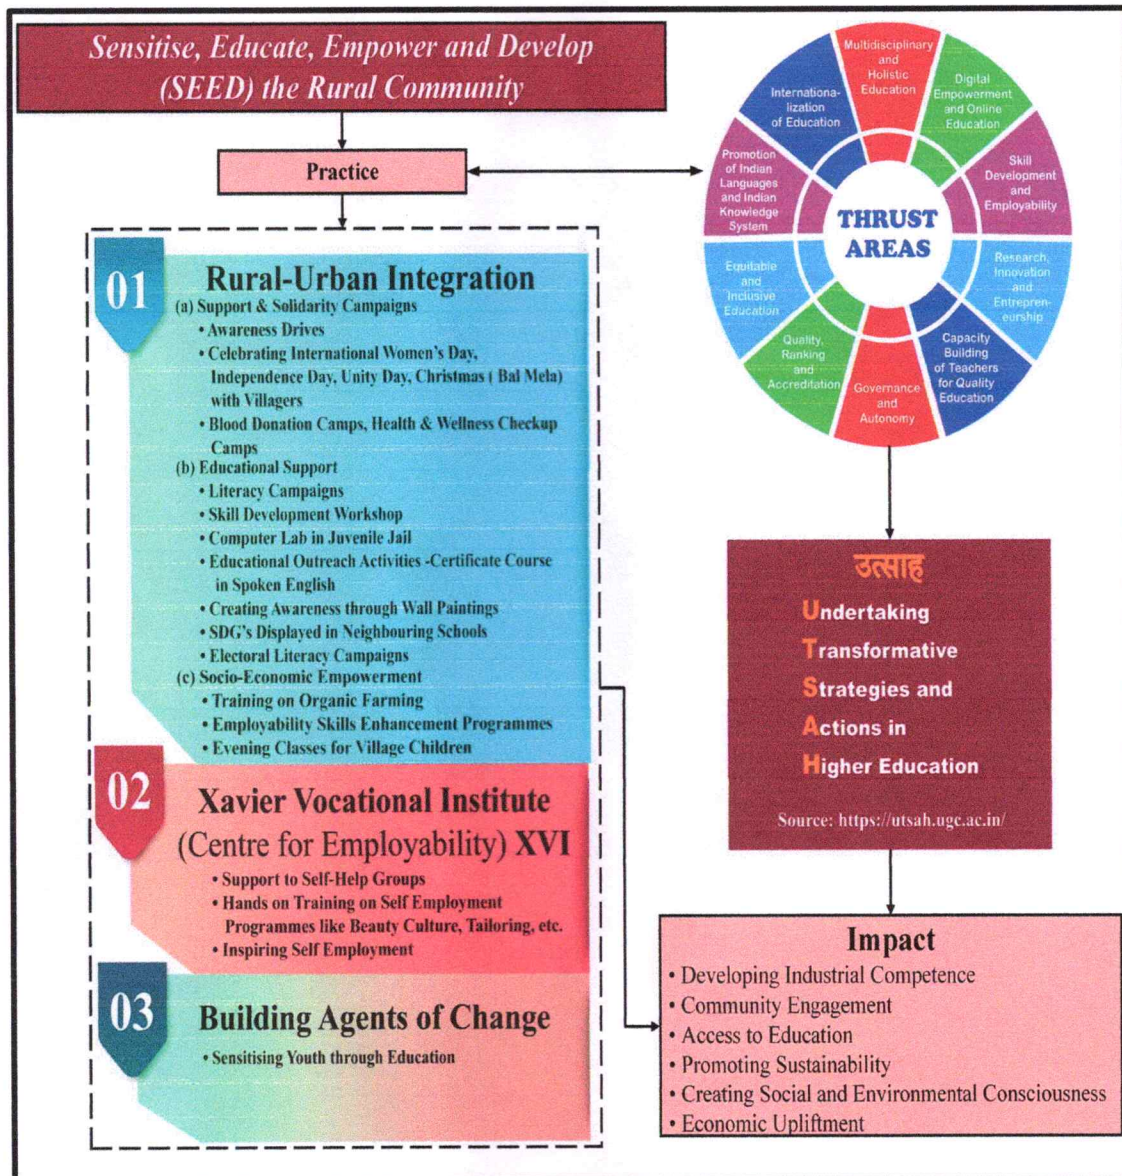

“Building capacity dissolves differences. It irons out inequalities.”

APJ Abdul Kalam

The college believes in transformative education where the students are sensitized through holistic education to all sections of society. Embracing the Universal Apostolic Preferences of the Jesuits, the institution shifted to the rural setting, leaving a settled urban space with the vision of empowering the rural community. The college has created a new identity in a serene rural environment serving the local community by adopting five neighbouring villages. It serves as a beacon of inclusive education, transcending geographical boundaries and nurturing a diverse community of learners. The college has embraced and adorned it with diverse flora and fauna, promoting SDGs that inspired the college to be a GREEN DESERT.

The dedicated faculty, staff, and alumni of the institution actively engage in transforming the community through the involvement of the students making them the agents of change. The students become instrumental in raising awareness through surveys and literacy programs, providing resources like knowledge transfer programs with villagers, and participating in initiatives like cleanliness drives. This not only reflects good citizenry but importantly prepares students for life as whole persons committed to the cause of bettering the society.

I. RURBANISATION: Rural-Urban Amalgamation

The college in the rural backdrop stands as a testament to resilience, adaptability, and unwavering dedication in shaping enlightened minds for a sustainable future.

- Rural-Urban Integration: This is exemplified by initiatives like support & solidarity campaigns and awareness drives as well as diverse community engagement programs. Such efforts include engaging in activities like celebrating International Women's Day, Independence Day with villagers, and organizing blood donation camps, thus reinforcing inclusivity and community involvement.

These community empowerment initiatives function as an active experimentation hub, granting rural communities hands-on access to the latest technological advancements and environmentally conscious practices.

II. Xavier Vocational Institute (Centre for Employability) XVI

This centre is nestled within the college and is committed to providing comprehensive skill training programs tailored specifically for the empowerment of young girls from adopted villages. St. Xavier's College Jaipur, through its extension programs, is providing support to Self-Help Groups (SHGs) in various ways. XVI effectively attracts admissions and engages with local communities to raise awareness about the significance of girls' education and knowledge enhancement. It offers an array of meticulously designed courses including Cutting and Tailoring, Fashion Designing, Beauty Culture, and Computer Basics, which has initiated women towards a journey of self-discovery through skill enhancement. It offers hands-on training to equip women with the skills required for employment and serves as a platform for financial independence. The centre also provides resources and mentorship to inspire entrepreneurship among women in the neighbouring villages which strengthens the bond between the college and the community.

III. Agents of Change: Students

These activities enhance students' critical thinking skills and awareness, making them effective agents of change. They develop a positive attitude that encourages them to help others. By visiting villages and interacting with elders, women, and youth, students improve their interpersonal skills. This helps them become more empathetic to the needs of others both on campus and at home. The college thereby sensitizes the youth through education transforming them into better individuals who can contribute to society.

Conclusion

Through these distinctive initiatives, the college sensitises the students towards society and creates individuals who are determined to make the world a better place. The XVI empowers women by providing training, equipping them with the skills needed by industries and enabling them to achieve self-reliance. The awareness programs organised by various units under the Unnat Bharat Abhiyan (UBA) play a significant role in shaping the future of nearby villages through access to education. The college is sowing the SEED (Sensitize, Educate, Empower, and Develop) for a generation committed to the ideals of an inclusive society that empowers everyone and contributes to nation-building.
