ENGLISH Department Academic Fest – “FEST INKA”

Department	English
Teacher Coordinator	Dr. Rama Hirawat and Dr. Ranjit Kaur
Venue/Mode	College Auditorium

Literati Cell organised the 4th edition of its Literature Fest - INKA, on 24 November 2018. To send the word down the slipway and to initiate a story for an opus, Team INKA organized a small but meaningful interactive session with the students at Rajasthan Netraheen Kalyan Sangh (Gangouri Bazaar, Jaipur) on the occasion of Children's Day. As the name suggests, the non-profit organization is dedicated towards the well-being of the visually impaired but better endowed children of God.

The Enlightened Echelon was not just a harbinger to this year's fest but also in continuation with previous year's theme- A Story in Making. as the visit was designed as an interactive storytelling session for the students of the blind school. Three teachers and fifteen students visited the school and entwined colourful threads of stories with the monochromes of life. They told them interesting and encouraging stories, heard them sing and recite poems and spent quality time with them. The day was all about togetherness, laughter, entertainment and learning for everyone. It was an overwhelming experience for both, the teachers as well as the students.

This year, the fest tweaked its slogan from “Investing in Ideas” to “Revolutionizing the Ideas” with an aim to provide a platform where ideas can be built upon. The theme of the conclave revolved around the question of 'Politics vs Economics'. The idea was to invigorate a debate on which of the two must get precedence while deciding about the public policy for the masses in the country.
