Agenda 4: Poor academic environment and attendance

Dr Dharmveer Yadav raised the issue of events being organized before 11:30 am eventually disturbing the classes on the daily basis. He said that the events should be reduced for better academics. The issue of academic fests having repetitive events, DJ nights, classes being disturbed in second half, students not turning up in classes was highlighted by IQAC members and more emphasis should be on academic orientation. Dr Mahua Bose raised the issue of teachers not motivating and counselling the students for attending the classes regularly. She also suggested that mentors should call the respective class parents in December to inform them about their ward's performance.

Fr Arok pointed out that getting students to classes is a big challenge as he himself witnessed in Sociology classes. He also observed that why do we have to organize unwanted events during class hours like Open mic. He said that we should have a balance between academics and extra-curricular events and there should be a proper mechanism to check the same.

Fr principal highlighted that low attendance is a very big issue and it should be tackled properly by all staff. He suggested that hereafter we should not organize open mic type events inside college building. He also stressed upon cutting down on events so that focus can be back on NAAC. He highlighted that there should be rating of department performance based on the programs organized by the units. He directed that IQAC should constantly meet him and brief him about the NAAC preparation work.

Fr Sangeet observed that there is lack of planning and there has to be an appropriate balance between academics & cultural activities. He suggested that there should be clarity in decision making and IQAC as an important body should support the management in giving appropriate advice to them and bringing proper plans for the execution of all kinds of events in the College.

Mr Yashwardhan Singh pointed out that we should be focusing more on how to resolve the problem rather than just highlighting that we have a problem. He suggested that to tackle the problem of unwanted and excess events, a review can be done with all the departments and then revised academic planner can be prepared by IQAC.
