b. Lecture 2: Cost of COVID Treatment in India: Who bears the Burden?

COVID-19

- In terms of total cases, USA and India on top, followed by Brazil, Russia, Argentina
- However, total cases and new cases per million still lower than many other countries

- If tests increase significantly, may see a much higher case load, especially post lockdown
- Many cases going undetected, especially in rural areas
- Since lockdown, significant decline in precautions and safety measures by population
- Festive seasons or large public functions likely to increase transmission

Language is the first important tool of communication. To build proper communication one needs to make sure that the language and use of words is not flawed. To spread awareness about the same and inculcate this knowledge of right words in students the Women’s cell collaborated with the department of English, to organize a guest lecture on “The Use of Non-Sexist Language at the Workplace”. Tuheena Raj, epigram blogger, writer and Tedx speaker delivered a lecture over the same. Ms Raj talked about the use of proper pronouns, importance of respecting others, their physical and intellectual being and many other things that we fail to notice and learn. It was an important session to give a break to the happenings around and make a change. The session was followed by questions and views put by students and teachers about how patriarchy, its symbols and supporters take over our ability to judge and the need to stop it in the easiest and polite manner possible without hurting the sentiments of others we address to. 9. The Enlightened Echelon – Pre Inka 2020: Coordinator – Dr Rama Hirawat

Syaahi: The seventh edition of INKA began with Pre INKA like every year but made a difference by organizing a donation drive in the name “Syaahi”, shaped by team INKA in collaboration with their Social Initiative Partner – All About Happiness. The team believed in the thought “No one can help everyone, but everyone can help someone.” Syaahi was a humble endeavour to provide recycled stationery to the less privileged students who aspire to do a lot but lack resources. This included old pen and pencils, notebooks, half-filled notebooks, course books, writing books and others. Moreover, it aimed to encourage students of the college to reuse and recycle little things to make a bigger difference and save mother Earth in their little ways, individually yet together. The students said, that this initiative could also include extra gadgets that people discard only because they have a new one like cell phones, earphones or headphones, etc.

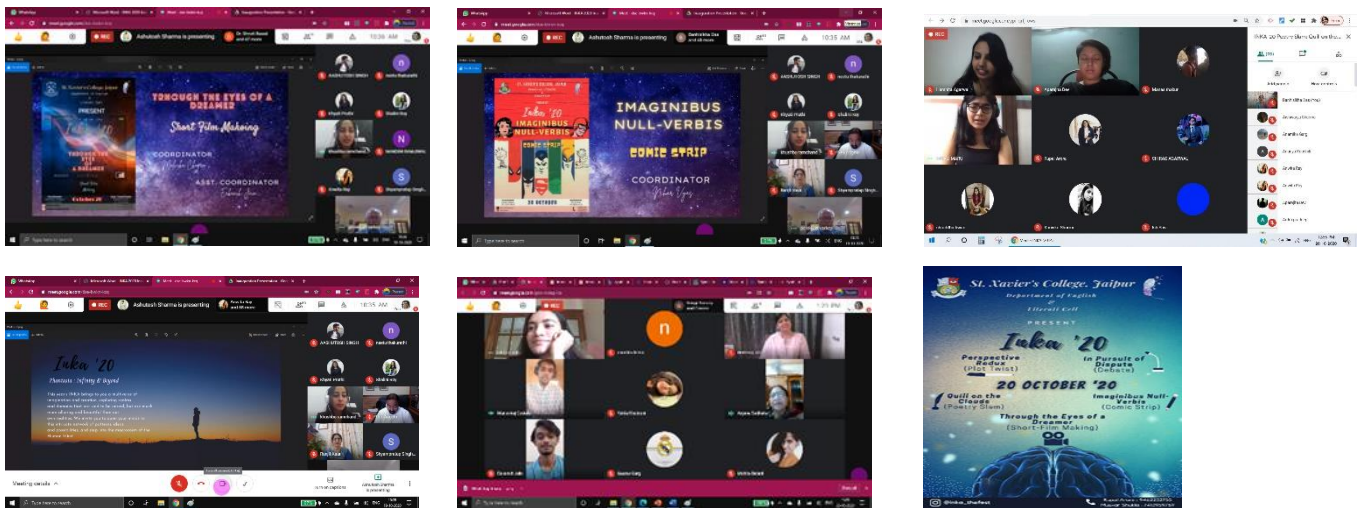

Sharing a Meal: The Enlightened Echelon marks the beginning of INKA by the department of English and the Literati Cell. While the fest aims to bring youth closer to literature through exciting events, Pre INKA is a social initiative to return something to the society. On 19 October 2020, team INKA organized a visit to the Hindu Anath Ashram, Chaura Rasta, Jaipur and shared a meal with the less privileged children from the age of five to sixteen. The team also ensured that each one of those children enjoy their presence and thus, did fun activities, encouraged them to showcase their interests and talent. Though the fest was conducted online due to the pandemic, the team didn’t step back from their social responsibilities also, followed all the protocols and precautions necessary. The effort was applauded and more such endeavours were wished.

The Department of English, St. Xavier’s College, Jaipur, organised ‘Perceptions’ – a Power Point Presentation Competition for the students of Undergraduate and Postgraduate students of Literature on 5 November 2020 at 9:30 a.m. The PPT Competition was organised to initiate the students into research and presentation of research findings owing to the rampant use of online platform. A number of students participated in this competition with a lot of enthusiasm and the PPTs ranged from the topics ‘Gender Neutral Mudras to combat patriarchy’, ‘Homosexuality and Homophobia’ and they also touched upon the books like The Color Purple, The Namesake, The Forest of Enchantments, Pride and Prejudice, The Kite Runner to name a few. 12. Movie Screening followed by Group Discussion and Movie Review: Coordinator – Ms Banhisikha Das

The Department of English, St. Xavier's College, Jaipur organised a screening of the movie 'Little Women' (2019) on 20 November 2020. The film screened is the most recent cinematic reiteration of Louisa May Alcott's book with the same title directed by Greta Gerwig. The screening began at 9 am and was followed by a group discussion which aimed to focus on 'women's struggle between familial duty and personal growth during the 19th century.' The discussion encompassed active participation from teachers, undergraduate students, and postgraduate students. Keeping the women's struggle—the central theme of the movie—as the focus of the discussion, participants further delved into various aspects that influence or come to define such gender issues. From feminism to postcolonialism and postmodernism, no stone was left unturned in discussing the nuances and interpretation of the movie. The discussion focused on marriage as an institution, and in doing so, examined other institutions like religion. How tyrannical powers weaponise such institutions was one of the main focuses of the discussion. The discussion veered into probing the freedom to dream; this further elicited responses regarding the fabric of society and its scaffolds on individual choices. Participants also debated over the tussle between artistic freedom and historical accuracy. They also discussed how a non-linear narrative affixes the past to the present. Insidious gender biases and the importance of language in creating such preconceptions shaped the later course of the discussion. Participants also discussed marriage as a virtue, marriage as a choice, marriage and personal freedom, the problem of ever-increasing materialism, and the importance of monogamy and its role in raising children. The discussion ended with participants expounding on the relevance of canonical texts like 'Little Women' in today's society; and how such relevance is a testament to the current scenario and the overall progress and shortcomings of humanity. The students felt that the movie screening would have been better had it not been online. But given the circumstances they appreciated the effort and suggested more of such screenings of adaptations based on good books as the visual medium has greater mass appeal. Some students also felt that such screening should be open for students from other departments who enjoy reading as a hobby.

She shared her journey with the students, and she is a successful language trainer. She gave the perfect recipe for success for French language learners. There were a lot of students who were extremely inquisitive and wanted to know more about the subject. Many of which were pursuing French as their optional subject. Ms. Castellás has a graduate and a postgraduate degree in English Literature from St. Xavier’s College, after which she taught in St. Xavier’s College as a lecturer in English Literature for a year. the impact and essence of literature in practical lives. She highlighted the part where being a Xavierite had always given her opportunities to scale greater heights and outdistance oneself. More bandwidths would be ensured at both ends for such sessions next time.

19. Jaipur Literature Festival: Coordinators – The dept. of English

Described as the ‘greatest literary show on Earth’, the Jaipur Literature Festival is a sumptuous feast of ideas. CITY FIRST

The two-day event, 'Envision X Vendesto' organised by the Department of Commerce and the Department of Management started on Monday, 9 November, in the virtual presence of Jesuit authorities, faculties, students and the students. The event deliberated over the new challenges that people are encountering in the virtual platform that has become pervasive in the post-Covid world. Arjun Deshpande, founder and CEO of Generic Aadhaar, a philanthropist and an innovator, hooked the aspiring minds with his riveting talk on relieving oneself from the pressure from parents, peers and society and focusing on what lies within to ignite one's spark and passion. The fest provided a great learning curve for the students, besides doubling up as a vessel of fond memories. This year was extra special as students from haloed educational institutions such as Brijasi Mohje, Nari-pal, SKIT, DU, Amity, JKLU, Bhojani-pore, Maharashtra, Mithibai and our very own St Xavier's, Nevta, participated in the event.
