FEEDBACK REPORT

The Department of Arts organized a talk show titled "Excellence in Action" featuring civil servants. It was an insightful event showcasing the achievements and experiences of distinguished civil servants. Attendees gained valuable insights into public service and leadership. The interactive format allowed for engaging discussions on governance and societal challenges. Overall, it was a highly informative and inspiring session.

SUMMARY REPORT

The Department of Arts recently organized a talk show titled "Excellence in Action," featuring distinguished civil servants. The event aimed to highlight exemplary public service and leadership within the government sector.

During the talk show, civil servants shared their personal journeys, achievements, and challenges faced in their careers. They discussed various aspects of governance, policy implementation, and their contributions to societal development. The interactive format allowed students and attendees to engage directly with the civil servants, posing questions and gaining valuable insights into the workings of the bureaucracy and public administration.

The session also emphasized the importance of integrity, dedication, and innovation in public service. Attendees gained a deeper appreciation for the role of civil servants in shaping policy and driving positive change in society.

Overall, the talk show "Excellence in Action" was a resounding success, providing a platform for students to learn from real-world experiences and inspiring them to consider careers in public service. It encouraged dialogue and reflection on the impact of effective governance in addressing national challenge.

SUMMARY REPORT

On December 21, 2022, Xavier's Civil Service Society, in collaboration with Allen ACE, organized a comprehensive workshop on civil services preparation in the conference room. The workshop aimed to provide students with valuable insights and strategies to excel in civil service examinations. Expert speakers from Allen ACE, known for their expertise in civil services coaching, conducted interactive sessions, addressing various aspects of the preparation process.

The workshop covered essential topics such as exam patterns, effective study techniques, time management, and the significance of staying updated with current affairs. Students were also given tips on answer writing, personality development, and interview skills. The speakers shared their experiences and success stories, motivating attendees to adopt a disciplined and focused approach towards their goals.

Participants had the opportunity to engage in Q&A sessions, clearing their doubts and gaining clarity on various aspects of the civil services exams. The event was well-received, with attendees appreciating the practical advice and personalized guidance offered by the experts. The workshop concluded with a vote of thanks, acknowledging the efforts of Xavier's Civil Service Society and Allen ACE in organizing a valuable and enriching session. This collaborative effort significantly benefited the students, equipping them with the necessary tools and confidence to pursue a career in civil services.
