

Ficus black

DESCRIPTION

- Ficus benjamina is a tree reaching 30 m (98 feet) tall, commonly known as weeping fig native to Asia and Australia and official tree of Bangkok.
- The plant is a major source of indoor allergens, ranking as the third-most common cause of indoor allergies after dust and pets.